Student Academic Responsibilities

In its commitment to helping students achieve their academic goals, McMaster University makes available numerous tools and resources, including the MBA Calendar and academic advisors. However, students must assume certain responsibilities. These include:

- ❖ Meeting admission requirements for a program of study.
- ❖ Applying to that program by the stated deadline.
- ❖ Selecting courses that meet the program requirements.
- ❖ Completing courses in an order that meets prerequisite requirements.
- ❖ Becoming familiar with and respecting University sessional dates, the general academic regulations and the Faculty-, Program- or School-specific regulations as found in the appropriate section of the MBA Calendar.

Experience has shown that students who do not follow these guidelines may experience academic consequences such as cancellation of registration in courses.

In addition to the responsibilities listed above, students are expected to:

- ❖ Become familiar with and respect Senate Policy Statements.
- ❖ Pay, within the prescribed deadline, MBA fees.
- ❖ Be aware that changes to course load and program may affect eligibility for government financial aid (e.g., OSAP and out-of-province student loan programs), University financial aid (e.g., bursaries and work programs), and scholarships.
- ❖ Consult with the Student Experience Office in a timely manner to make the necessary accommodations for special needs.
